Communion & Mortal Sin

Question:

I have a friend who receives communion, but who I know for a fact is in a state of mortal sin. Should I tell our priest? Is it my responsibility to say something?

Answer:

While we may always want to do what is best for our friends and family members, we have a responsibility to respect their privacy and their conscience. In its reflections on the Eighth Commandment (“You shall not bear false witness against your neighbor”), the Catechism of the Catholic Church states, “Respect for the reputation of persons forbids every attitude and word likely to cause them unjust injury. [One] becomes guilty: -of rash judgment who, even tacitly, assumes as true, without sufficient foundation, the moral fault of a neighbor; -of detraction who, without objectively valid reason, discloses another’s faults and failings to persons who do not know them; of calumny who, by remarks contrary to the truth, harms the reputation of others and gives occasion for false judgments concerning them” (no. 2477).

We will never truly know what is in a person’s mind, heart, and soul; only God knows those things. We should, of course, take our concerns to God and entrust the person about whom we are concerned to God’s grace and mercy. If we have concerns about the spiritual wellbeing of someone with whom we are close, we should go to the person themselves and talk about our fears and concerns. Unless it is a case of abuse or endangerment (which we have a moral and even legal responsibility to report to the appropriate authorities), we ultimately do not have the freedom to share another’s persons faults or sins, however good we think our intentions might be.

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP

Giving as God does

Ask yourself this question — what would you pray for if you really believed God could and would do anything for you? In my experience, we all have something. We all have that miracle we're afraid to request, afraid we will be disappointed.

Do we doubt God's readiness to give because we ourselves have such an imperfect understanding of charity and love? Maybe if we had better faith in God we would be more ready to give of ourselves — and maybe if we were more ready to give of ourselves, we would understand more clearly the ways of God.

Because we're not really afraid that God can't do something. We know He can do anything. What we're afraid of is that He will do what He always does: give us what we need, not what we want.

Have you ever had a friend in need and you just wanted to give them something — a meal, a phone call, a text? Not because you knew it would help, but simply because you wanted to reach out. And have they ever said to you: It wasn't so much what you gave, but the fact that you did. You gave them what they needed even if it wasn't what they specifically asked for.

When we give in this manner, we are giving as God does. Sometimes we are afraid to ask because we don't want to be disappointed. But remember, the blind man on the road got what he asked for, but he would have gotten what he needed even if his answer had been the opposite. God's generosity is always reckless, and it's always perfect.

LA CORRESPONSABILIDAD DIARIA

Dar como lo hace Dios

Hazte esta pregunta: ¿por qué orarías si realmente creyeras que Dios puede y haría cualquier cosa por ti? En mi experiencia, todos tenemos algo. Todos tenemos ese milagro que tenemos pedir, porque tenemos decepcionarnos.

¿Dudamos de la disposición de Dios para dar porque nosotros mismos tenemos una comprensión tan imperfecta de la caridad y el amor? Tal vez si tuviéramos una mejor fe en Dios estaríamos más dispuestos a dar de nosotros mismos, y tal vez si estuviéramos más dispuestos a dar de nosotros mismos, entenderíamos más claramente los caminos de Dios.

Porque realmente no tenemos miedo de que Dios no pueda hacer algo. Sabemos que puede hacer cualquier cosa. Lo que tenemos es que Él hará lo que siempre hace: darnos lo que necesitamos, no lo que queremos.

¿Alguna vez has tenido un amigo necesitado y solo querías darle algo: una comida, una llamada telefónica, un mensaje de texto? No porque supieras que ayudaría, sino simplemente porque querías tenderle una mano. Y alguna vez te han dicho: No fue tanto lo que diste, sino el hecho de que lo hiciste. Les diste lo que necesitaban incluso si no era lo que pidieron específicamente.

Cuando damos de esta manera, estamos dando como lo hace Dios. A veces tenemos miedo de pedir porque no queremos decepcionarnos. Pero recuerda, el ciego en el camino obtuvo lo que pidió, pero habría obtenido lo que necesitaba incluso si su respuesta hubiera sido lo contrario. La generosidad de Dios siempre es audaz y siempre perfecta.

Sharing the Gospel

Bartimaeus may have been poor and blind, but he sure was smart! He had the kind of faith that made Jesus smile. Bartimaeus knew exactly who Jesus was—the Messiah. And Bartimaeus knew Jesus had the power to make him see. When Jesus called him, Bartimaeus left everything behind—even his coat—just to follow Jesus.

Prayer

Dear God, thank you for helping Bartimaeus see you and follow you. Help me to follow his example.

Something to Draw

Draw a picture of Bartimaeus seeing Jesus for the very first time.

Mission for the Week

Wear a blindfold at home, and ask your family members to talk to you as usual. Just by the sound of each voice, you know who is talking, right? Talk about how being blind did not stop Bartimaeus from recognizing Jesus, either.
